WE'RE GREEN

Davis' Pub upholds an environmentally-inspired commitment to create and maintain policies aimed at minimizing harmful practices while implementing socially responsible ones.

- Recycle all cardboard, cans, bottles, plastic containers, and cups resulting in a 70% reduction in trash volume.
- Switched 73% of interior lighting to CFL or fluorescent bulbs.
- Installed an OnDemand hot water heater.

We continually strive to improve our practices by fostering an atmosphere that promotes a better environment.

HISTORY

The last of a dying breed, Davis' is a true Annapolis neighborhood pub. Built in the 1920s by lifelong Eastport resident George Davis, the building was originally opened as a general store. In the 1940s, the building was transformed into Davis' Tavern, which served as a local watering hole for the numerous watermen who resided throughout the surrounding working-class neighborhood.

While Eastport as a whole has changed significantly over the past several decades, we are proud to say Davis' Pub has remained virtually the same, catering to faithful customers from all walks of life near and far!
